Parenting is the toughest job in the world. Now, add in virtual school, trying to keep your kids busy and active, making sure they are staying safe and helping them deal with an uncertain world.

Thanks to the pandemic, being a parent or caregiver is even tougher. Jennie Watson, LCSW, School-Based Services Manager, will share ways to guide your children through these changing times and take care of yourself.

You'll also be able to ask your specific questions about this topic and get some tips. If you have questions, please enter them when you sign up. Then, Jennie will address as many of them as possible during the conversation.

Spots for this virtual event are limited—first-come, first-served!
